4 HAND in HAND: The School Partners with the Community in Pursuit of Health Equity

When SPH faculty and students work in tandem with agencies on the ground to address public health concerns, everyone wins.

12 ROSHAN BASTANI: Bringing Cancer Advances to Communities

The school's associate dean for research goes to the low-income, ethnic minority and immigrant populations disproportionately affected by the disease, working with them to test and implement strategies designed to save lives.

Even within a field as interdisciplinary as public health, the experts in making sense of complex data stand out for their linkages throughout the school and the UCLA campus.

FOOD for THOUGHT: Working Toward Healthier School Nutrition Environments

18

California led the way in raising the standards for what can be sold on K-12 campuses, but the work is far from over. SPH faculty continue to play an important role.
