

faculty honors

DR. RONALD ANDERSEN earned The Baxter Allegiance Prize for Contributions to Health Services Research. He served on the Institute of Medicine's Committee on the Consequences of Uninsurance.

DR. SUSAN COCHRAN received the 2001 Distinguished Contribution to Research in Public Policy award from the American Psychological Association. The award was given for Cochran's body of research on lesbian and gay life.

DR. WILLIAM G. CUMBERLAND was elected Fellow to the American Statistical Association.

DR. WILLIAM HINDS testified at an Environmental Protection Agency hearing on proposed standards for heavy-duty vehicles and diesel fuel sulfur control.

DR. JOHN FROINES was inducted into the Berkeley High School Hall of Fame in Berkeley, Calif. Previous inductees have included Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Thornton Wilder, fitness expert Jack LaLanne, and Grateful Dead bassist Phil Lesh.

DR. JESS F. KRAUS and CORINNE PEEK-ASA received the Best Video Award at the 5th World Conference on Injury Prevention and Control for "Work Alert: A Robbery and Violence Prevention Training Video."

DR. GANG LI was elected Fellow of the International Statistical Institute.

DR. MARK LITWIN received the 2001 Gold Cystoscope Award from the American Urological Association. The annual award honors a young urologist with outstanding contributions to the field of urology. Litwin received the award for his pioneering work in urological health services research, much of it in quality of life in prostate cancer.

DR. SHANE QUE HEE was named to a five-year term on the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health Board of Scientific Counselors.

DR. SUSAN SORENSON served on the planning board and as a peer reviewer for the Surgeon General's Report on Youth Violence, and has been a consultant to UNICEF, Innocenti Digest on Domestic Violence.

DR. DAWN UPCHURCH received the Jacobs Institute—Ortho-McNeil Pharmaceutical Scholar in Women's Health Award to further her research on the risk of involuntary sex among adolescent girls. The award is given annually by the nonprofit Jacobs Institute for research to improve the delivery of health care services to women.

DR. ROBERT WEISS was Section on Bayesian Statistical Sciences Program Chair for the 2001 Joint Statistical Meetings in Atlanta.